We are More Than a Leading Hospitality Management Institute in the World

HTMi , Hotel and Tourism Management Institute, Switzerland is the Swiss centre of Swiss Hospitality Group International the world's largest and fastest growing hospitality education, training, and management group. In 2021/22 HTMi is ranked top twelve in the world for employer reputation (QS Global University Ranking: Hospitality and Leisure), and it's always all about our results. In 2023/24 our key academic performance metrics are a truly powerful career platform for our students and graduates.

We create leaders in hospitality, business and culinary management, and our unique education platform equips future leaders with well-practiced skills in hospitality, entrepreneurship, innovation, and above all the ambition to be great. All our future leaders enjoy the unique experience of being able to 'Live It, Love It, Learn It' in Switzerland's most beautiful and safe study location: the UNESCO Biosphere Soerenberg, Entlebuch, Kanton Luzern. Our students enjoy wonderful Swiss internships in top hotels and restaurants before ascending to our global community for a lifetime. Our graduate successes are demonstrated in LinkedIn showing superior strength progression and advancement after graduating at HTMi.

HTMi is a modern education and training brand with branch campuses and partnerships spanning the globe, and with big plans we welcome all students from all countries on the planet to take part in our exciting education journey into the future.

Our HTMi Education concept is to offer all students a leading dual degree combination of UK University Degrees from Ulster University and Edinburgh Napier University and a powerful HTMi Degree option, underpinned by the famous HTMi Switzerland diplomas in hospitality and events. Developed over decades, all courses have a unique and very experienced holistic blend of theory, on-campus practice, professional development, events participation, and strong internship opportunities in Switzerland and internationally. Over decades in development, our business innovation training and projects are delivered across all courses, is the special ingredient designed to create strong leaders and successful graduates. We are more than a leading hospitality management institute and our progressive education concept reflects this. Apple technology is a strong support interconnecting all students, teachers, programmes, and multiple data centres.

“Our iconic hospitality education concept at HTMi is world-class, with a leading holistic combination of learning, training, professional practice, events participation, research, and our unique enterprise projects. Every day I am at HTMi is a wonderful, different, exciting and iconic experience”. Charles Hains, Vice President, Global Academics.

Our leading events programme on campus and internationally provides all students with a leading participation platform to not only master events planning and organisation, but also to develop strong behavioural, presentation and team participation learning.

Our events training impact is designed to train our future leaders in delivering hospitality, business profit and superior services through teamwork, planning and the X factor.

We hold more events than any other global hospitality institute .

“Life is an event, Live it, Love It, Learn It.
We don’t teach students, we teach future hospitality professionals and leaders.”
Keith Howison
Events Master & Courses Leader.

“ Our research impact is designed to create thoughtful leaders, from the first semester of study to the last semester. Our student mission is “Lead Don’t Follow, Create Don’t Copy”, underpinning the development of the next generation of hospitality leaders”.
Dr Carlos Oberli, Research and Leadership Course Leader.

We create culinary champions and leaders of everything that happens in the culinary sector. Our range of top kitchen and various food and beverage outlets on campus provide our future culinary leaders with an excellent holistic platform to excel. All students will experience our leading culinary team, guest Master Chefs and excellent internship opportunities.

Employers now require general culinary skills, creative management drive and a degree recognition allowing graduates to move and work in many different employment locations globally. To ensure our students international future we award the UK number 1 rank (2025 Guardian ranking) culinary degree from Ulster University.

A key feature of our Swiss European Culinary Institute is our strong partnership with WACS, World Association of Chefs Societies, which professionally approves all culinary courses. WACS represents millions of chefs worldwide, and combined with the HTMi graduate employer platform provides HTMi future culinary leaders with a world-class employer and professional community.

"We are delighted to have HTMi Switzerland as our academic partner. Best wishes to all students and graduates".

Andrei Nacea
Romania, PgD / MBA Graduate

It was a great privilege to be one of the first generations of Post Graduate and MBA graduate students at HTMi. All the courses were very action and career oriented, offering me the chance to see things from different perspectives. Thus through a strong foundation and amazing teachers and lecturers I was able to have a clear professional road map ahead.

I'm using everyday the knowledge gained at HTMi in developing my expertise as an international business advisor and entrepreneur. In my current role, as Managing Partner of Nacea & Partners Business Advisory & Attorneys at Law, together with a team of experienced business advisors and talented attorneys at law, we provide full business advisory and legal support in multiple jurisdictions worldwide, through innovative and out-of-the box solutions in tourism & hospitality, real estate and technology, to name a few.

As a Partner at Forbes Ignite New York, I had participated in research and investigative experiments around the power of diversity in teamwork and collaboration such as the recently published Whitepaper - "How Diverse Teams Succeed Under Pressure".
